Press Release

Sencommunications' President Fran Senory honored with Certificate of Achievement from Women's Business Enterprise National Council

Local Telecommunications Company has reason to celebrate as President Fran Senory recognized by Women's Business Enterprise National Council for seven years of membership.

Tampa, FL, October 1, 2008: Sencommunications, Inc., a communications company specializing in software, headsets, phones, networking products and telecommunications, renewed its national certification as a Women's Business Enterprise by the Women's Business Development Center, a regional certifying partner of the Women's Business Enterprise National Council (WBENC). The recertification marks Sencomm's seventh year as a certified Women's Business Enterprise. This coincides with the company's 20th anniversary, which will be celebrated in February of 2009.

Sencommunications, founded by President Frances Senory in 1989, is recognized for passing a rigorous certification process, the WBENC confirming that Sencomm is woman- owned, managed and operated. Since its inception, Sencomm has grown to be a respected Women's Business Enterprise in a typically male-dominated industry. The company sought official certification from the WBENC in 2002, the year the organization partnered with Florida's Women's Business Development Center. Recognizing Sencomm's success and Senory's continued involvement in the company, Diversitybusiness.com ranked Sencomm a top diversity owned business in the United States in 2005 and in 2006, The Tampa Bay Business Journal ranked Sencomm as one of the top successful women-owned businesses in the Tampa Bay area.

WBENC's national standard of certification implemented by the Women's Business Development Center is a meticulous process including an in-depth review of the business and site inspection. The certification process is designed to confirm the business is a least 51% owned, operated and controlled by a woman or women.
